

Talia Novella

Content & Social Media Manager

talianovella@gmail.com · Cape Town, South Africa · @taliahavingfun

A creative with an affinity for the art of online storytelling. I am passionate about creating organic content that doesn't feel like advertising – content that's easy to watch and engage with, and that helps brands connect with their audience in an authentic way. I believe that social media is the very foundation of building that connection between brands and their community.
